Upgrades Outlook from Contact Management to Relationship management. This product is designed for people who have a lot of contacts and want to maintain relationships with a large number of people. The core function is the ability to send mailings to people – to verify the info you have on file for them and have any new information they provide merged into your Outlook address book automatically. It also lets you know about people you haven't heard from for a while, and can automatically send out birthday and anniversary e-greeting cards to your contacts so you can make sure you're staying in touch with everyone! The software provides an extensive reporting capability so you can see what's happening with all your contacts at a glance.
